

Postal charges for both domestic and international mail, including letters, postcards, and parcels, are based on weight (grams).

How to Mail a Letter

1. Buy an envelope: You can buy envelopes at any post office or stationery shop. An envelope is around 0.5RMB.

2. Search the zip code: If you don't know a zip code for the address of the sender or the receiver, you can look it up on the Internet at home or ask the staff in post offices.

3. Write the address: The addresses of the sender and receiver should be written in the language of the receiving country or in English. If the address is in the language of the receiving country, the country name should be written in English or the language of the sending country.

4. Pay for postage: Have your letter weighed at an international mail counter. Pay the postage, which is weighed in grams.

How to Mail a Postcard

Regardless of weight or distance, postage for a postcard is 4.5RMB. You can buy the desired number of stamps at a local post office or a stationery shop. Then drop your postcard into a mailbox on the street or inside the post office.
