

Guilin Art Museum is considered the most complete museum in Guilin and one of the biggest museums in southwest China . Its large collections have enabled it to build a very good reputation, while at the same time contribute to local cultural education and cultural exchange. The museum has collected many famous paintings from the dead masters to the present day artists. It also periodically holds fine art exhibitions.

“The Artists Gallery “on the second floor sells paintings from the artists whose work has been collected by the museum (pieces in other areas are also for sale upon communicating with the artists.) Many of the paintings from these up-and-coming artists are very distinctive in style and will continue to hold value from a collector's standpoint.

Suppurted by artists in China and abroad, Guilin Art Museum enjoys a highly respected position in the field of fine art. It is an ideal place for friends form all over the world to appreciate our art.
